History GCSE	Changes in Health and Medicine Unit Since September we have been looking at changes to health and medicine over time. We have looked at causes of diseases like Black Death Cholera and HIV AIDS in the medieval period, early modern times, 17-19th century and then on to modern times. We have followed the same pattern to look at how vaccinations and steps to prevent disease developed over time from Jenner's smallpox vaccinations to COVID -19. Last year we also studied the USA : A nation of contrasts and so it is a good idea to look over that work now and again to keep it fresh in your minds.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ★ Review your book and notes carefully so you can raise any questions that you have with your teacher in school or on the google classroom. Try to look over your work regularly so that you are keeping your topics fresh in your mind ★ Complete A3 revision sheets on each of the topics from the Spec in the inside front cover of your book to help with your subject knowledge. Little and often revision is far more powerful than long nights cramming for hours. ★ Use BBC Bitesize revision on the topic too! Think about why that event was significant and why. Use short knowledge quizzes ★ https://www.bbc.co.uk/bitesize ★ Practise looking for connections between pieces of information on

		a topic. Look for differences and things they have in common. Look for clues whenever you see pictures or information in the media ★ When revising topics like causes and treatments of disease, make sure that you cover all of the time periods from the medieval through to the modern day in a pattern.
Travel and Tourism		★ Ensure that you keep up to date with your Unit material. This is the topic we have been studying since September. You have saved your notes each lesson on your Drive. ★ Practise exam style questions. These range from multiple choice, short answers and longer answer questions. You can get past paper questions from your teacher on request. Your teacher will also post past paper questions to the Google Classroom nearer the exam.
